

The PDF for each session contains a Listening Sheet that should be filled out as husband and wife listen to the session. After listening to the session together, the husband and wife should then separately write out the answers to the discussion questions, and then discuss their answers with each other. If you are single, you can write the answers out and then discuss them with your pastor. After each session ask yourself these two important questions. How can I implement these things in my life? What one thing can I do THIS WEEK to achieve this goal?

Listening Sheet—Part Nine—God’s Key Principles for Victory

The _____ were more concerned about pleasing men than pleasing God.

You deal with _____, _____ out of balance, and _____ by remembering the principle of Luke _____ and John _____.

The principle is that _____ only comes after _____.

The correct order is _____, _____, and then _____.

We must be willing to _____ our ideas and trust God before God will _____.

Don’t become a RTP: _____.

A RTP makes _____ over and over before doing anything.

This builds _____ in a child.

It adds _____ and _____ in your life.

It will _____ your efforts to raise your child correctly.

Until you are ready to _____ to the will of God in your life, _____ your life to be the kind of parent God wants, you are not going to see the _____ of God in your child’s life.

If you continually _____ your voice as you try to get your child’s attention, you are teaching them that you have a certain _____ level that they have to respond to.

Kids learn that they don’t have to _____ until you reach that anger level. In reality, you are teaching your children to _____.

Goal: to get your children to _____ and _____ at your first command.

If you let them get away until the 3rd or 4th command, you are teaching them to _____.

You will never have victory in parenting until you get ahold of your own _____.

If you find yourself getting angry, upset, and bothered, you need to adjust your _____ and get in tune with God.

Questions—Part Nine—God’s Key Principles for Victory

1. Explain how surrender, sacrifice, and supply relate to raising your children.
2. Do you or your spouse tend to be a RTP? What affects have you seen in your children because of this?
3. Why is it so important to teach your children to obey the first command?
4. Do your children know that you have a certain “anger level” that they respond to?
5. Have you mastered your own heart, or is that an area that you need to work on? What can you do about it this week?
6. Are you willing to surrender to the will of God in your life, and sacrifice your life to be the parent that God wants? Have you seen the supply of God in your child’s life? Why or why not?